

Foto: © M. Verghet

Mountains are a storehouse of biological diversity and endangered species

Convention on Biological Diversity

Mountain environments are essential to the survival of the global ecosystem

“... Mountains are a storehouse of biological diversity and endangered species...
Mountain environments are essential to the survival of the global ecosystem...”

RIO DECLARATION ON ENVIRONMENT AND DEVELOPMENT, Agenda 21, Chapter 13

MOUNTAIN BIODIVERSITY: Regional Approaches and Conventions

Highlighting the importance of regional conventions, approaches and partnerships between mountain regions for the implementation of the CBD:

High-level speakers:

Mr. Ahmed Djoghlaif, CBD ED

Minister Niki Berlakovich, Austria

Minister Roko Žarnić, Slovenia

Minister Pema Gyamtsho, Bhutan

Minister Antonio Brack, Peru

Mr. Kassahun Embaye, Ethiopia

Mr Bakary Kante, DELC/UNEP

Secretary of State Cristian Apostol, Romania

High-level representative, Switzerland

27 October 2010

13:15 – 14:45 hours

Nagoya Congress Centre

Bldg 2, 3rd Floor

Room 233B

Food and drinks provided

How to contact us:

Please contact us for further information under:

Mr. Matthias Jurek

Email: matthias.jurek@unvienna.org

Mobile: +43 699 1459 7120

